FRIDAY, JAN. 12, 1906.

Men of conviction don't give up just because someone says "What's the use?"

The Bulletin will agree to furnish a corner lot free of charge provided the judicial incident cannot be settled amicably.

It is to be hoped the new San Pedro line will not allow any grass to grow on the hulls of the steamers waiting for the Honolulu run.

Should J. A. McCandless ever be rechristened, Steamboat would come in somewhere. For once he gets started he keeps going full speed.

Honolulu merchants have never got together that they didn't have so good a time as to make them wonder why they don't do it more frequently.

Bryan has been made a datto as a mark of respect. That's not saying he feels perfectly safe when chumming with his fellow dattos who have been pacified.

That $225,000 revenue cutter for Hawaii would be just as attractive if assured by the guarantee of seventy-five per cent of Hawaii's Federal revenue being available for its construction.

Revolutionists and government officers of Russia have much in common these days. One is killed and the other assassinated with a freedom that suggests the only difference as a slight technicality.

Additional troops ordered to Manila have caused inquiries whether China may not need attention. It is quite as probable that the little Brown Brother of the Philippines is arousing quite as much apprehension.

Citizens of a Republic don't feel jealous when a body of full grown men travel thousands of miles to present a great and good friend an order of the garter. There's more real amusement in selling shingle nails to the workmen and shirtwaists to the ladies.

WORK FOR TEACHERS

"What shall we do now?" was the question Benj. Ide Wheeler asked after receiving a letter from Secretary Taft suggesting that there would not be enough room in Government transports for Hawaii teachers wishing to attend the Summer School of the California University.

Superintendent Babbitt has answered this question by setting to work with much enthusiasm and determination to convince the authorities in Washington that a reconsideration of a casual opinion is justified and Hawaii's request worthy of favorable action. We believe this method will meet the approval of such men as President Wheeler, who takes a great interest in the advancement of educational work anywhere the American flag waves.

"Work harder" is always a timely response to "What shall we do now?" especially when you have a cause worthy of the struggle.

There is no reason why officers of our local government or of the National Government should rest satisfied with "It can't be done."

In this, as in every other work of a public nature, the Bulletin believes the people outside the ranks of officialdom should use every means within their grasp to aid in the accomplishment. Often a man has an acquaintance among those at headquarters to whom a timely word will be effective.

If this applies to you, take the trouble to put in the timely word.

UP TO THE MERCHANTS

Improved steamship promises are coming so thick and fast for Honolulu that the average man, who has seen such things come to the surface only to disappear, hopes that it is not all a dream.

From present indications the business men of this city have it in their hands to determine whether or not the promising array of propositions shall result in the fulfillment of what will be for the best interests of all—a modern steamer for the local run. It would seem remarkable if they should hesitate.

Honolulu business men are getting into the habit of doing things which are out of the ruts made by the conservative humdrum of former years.
They have a record of accomplishments which a few years ago they would have looked upon as utterly impracticable, if not impossible.

There's a new spirit abroad, a spirit that smacks of genuine civic pride and accepts no such word as fail.

The advantages to be gained from a new steamer, or improved service of old lines or both, hardly need repetition. First of all, Honolulu is in the tourist business to stay. It has proved to the satisfaction of those best able to judge that tourists will come in larger numbers to give accommodation and certainty of transportation.

Business interests which it has taken on years to enthrone or even interest in transportation plans have indicated a willingness to take hold and help along. Common sense aided by the promotion work of J. A. McCandless has aroused them to favorable action.

It would be most extraordinary if the mercantile interests should hesitate.

PUMP UP FISH

A funny sight at the exit of the pipe line attached to the dredger Pacific is when the blow fish come out and are dumped on the ground, where they make a great fuss. They are not injured in the least by being pumped through the thousand feet of pipe and appear looking like small balloons. In addition to the blow fish many eels, crabs and other kinds of fish are frequently being sucked up from the harbor and turned out at the other end.
The Pacific is now working out in the channel, much to the disgust of the boys who hang around the pipe line looking for money.

CARTER TELLS WYMAN.

from France to treat the child of a prominent cattle man of Louisiana who had leprosy, and Pepalou was also under treatment by this French physician. He made the statement that he firmly believed that leprosy was caused by the excessive use of salt; that the French physician told him that there must be something in the food of the people there that caused the disease.
The physician experimented with two children, and by the excessive use of salt in their food, he succeeded in bringing out a rash, then black spots and numbness, until they were finally pronounced lepers.

Later on, in California, Pepalou was examined by Dr. Hutchinson, a famous English physician. He claimed that while in Honolulu, both Dr. Day and Dr. Wood, after a thorough physical examination and bacteriological test, pronounced him unaccountably to be a leper. Before his discharge by the Board of Health of San Francisco, examinations and tests were made, which failed to show any evidence of leprosy.

For more than thirty-three years the man has been under confinement, according to his habit of life is such as to render him utterly useless in the outside world. He asked Governor Carter for permission to go to Molokai for the purpose of aiding patients there through the use of the water, which Pepalou believes to have effected the absolute cure in his own case.

Governor Carter was so impressed with the man's record and history that he placed the facts before Surgeon-General Wyman, furnishing him also with an analysis of the water. Pepalou is now at the almshouse in San Francisco.

ANOTHER HITCH IN
COTTON BROS. CASE

Judge Lindsay this morning put the Territory in a peculiar position in its case against Cotton Brothers by denying to take further action on the bill of exceptions filed by it. The Territory filed its bill of exceptions some time ago. It was contested by the other side and Judge Lindsay gave the Territory ten days in which to amend the bill. The Supreme Court in the meantime refused to place the matter on its calendar, for the reason that there was no bill of exceptions in the matter. The Territory did not amend its bill within the prescribed ten days, not having moved for permission to do so, and contended that it was therefore up to the Judge to either allow or overrule the original bill. This the Court refused to do, and it is now a problem how the Territory will manage to bring the matter before the Supreme Court.

ANOTHER BIGMIST

Providencia Martino was arrested by the Federal authorities this afternoon on a charge of bigamy. She is alleged to have married two husbands, one named Revara, and the other named Andino. United States Commissioner Mailing committed the woman. Bigamy seems to be a prevalent form of entertainment among the local Porto Ricans. Only a few weeks ago a woman of the same nationality was arrested for a similar offense.

Mail for San Francisco going out this afternoon on the Claudine will close at 4 o'clock. The mail will be transferred to the S. S. Nevada at Kahuini, which is due to sail at noon tomorrow for the Coast.

The case of Tom Pong, accused of selling opium without a license, was continued in the Police Court this morning until tomorrow. Judge Gear is defending the accused.

"Now, Tommy," said the mother of a small boy, as she paused in the disciplinary slipper exercise, "what made you eat the whole of that pie?"
"Cause," sobbed Tommy, "you told me to n-never do t-things by h-halves."

NO MISCONSTRUCTION

SAYS ROBINSON

OF GOVERNOR'S WORDS

"We will not be like a Don Quixote fighting windmills," said Judge Robinson this morning. "If the Governor makes no charges no affidavits will be presented, as there will be nothing for them to refute."

"Carter sent the cablegram withdrawing his endorsement of my re-appointment on or before January 5. He sent for John Guild on that day and during his interview with him he stated that he had already sent his cablegram of withdrawal to Washington."

"From another reputable source I understand that Carter sent his cable merely announcing his withdrawal and stating that a letter was to follow.
Now if this letter was sent it probably went by the Siberia on Jan. 6, the following day. This letter must, if it was sent at all, contain some sort of statements regarding the matter, which Carter will have to substantiate. Of course, he may shield himself by saying that it is a privileged communication, and the letter may not be given out, but if it is not, the people will know the reason, and I will have my vindication, which is what I want."

"With regard to the Governor's statement to Frank Thompson yesterday to the effect that what he said had been misconstrued to mean that he got his information about the affair from Guild and Thompson,—that is not possible."

"I asked the Governor if he would mind telling me who his informants were."

"He answered that he had seen Thompson and Guild."

"I thought he said Guild, and, not knowing any person of that name connected with the affair, I asked him which Guild he meant."

"He answered that he meant Guild, John Guild, who was in the employ of Alexander & Baldwin."

"This leaves no room for any possible misconception of what he said.
The Governor is merely mistaking the truth, which he has done throughout this, as well as many other matters."

PEACOCK VS. GARVIE

CASE

WARMLY CONTESTED

The hearing of the Peacock vs. Gar-vie quo warranto matter occupied the entire forenoon before Judge Lindsay until 11:45 a. m., when the matter was continued until Monday, as C. W. Ash-ford and R. W. Breckons are to go to Lale on business this afternoon.

The whole matter has resolved itself to the question if the adjourned annual meeting of stockholders called by the secretary of W. C. Peacock & Co., Ltd., against the will of President Peacock, was legal or not; and if certain shares voted by proxy at that meeting were legally voted. There were 337 1/2 shares of the stock hypothecated by Peacock with Bishop & Co. These were voted by Alex. Gar-vie, who held a proxy signed by S. M.
Damon. The plaintiff holds that the proxy should be given by the old Bishop & Co. partnership, consisting of S.
M. Damon, S. E. Damon and H. E.
Waity, and that these shares were therefore illegally voted. Should the meeting or the voting of the shares be held to be illegal, the action taken by the meeting by ousting Peacock and his friends and electing new officers and directors, is consequently void.

Peacock was today cross-examined by E. A. Mott-Smith, for Garvie, who wanted to bring out that while the original meeting was adjourned for the purpose of waiting for the reports of the auditor and the treasurer to get ready in order that more information would be at hand when the election of officers took place, still Peacock has personally investigated the affairs of the company and had gathered the desired information, in spite of the fact that the reports of the officers mentioned were not yet ready when the adjourned meeting was called. Peacock admitted that he had begun an investigation of the company's affairs in May, 1905, as a result of which he made charges against the management which he presented in written form to the board of directors. The defense attempted to go further into the question of how much information Peacock had gained, but the plaintiff's attorneys objected, and after a strenuous legal battle the Court sustained the objection.

The defense also attempted to gather from Peacock information as to the nature of the charges he had made and against whom they were directed, but the plaintiff's objection to this course of examination was sustained on the grounds that the charges themselves, as they were in written form, would be the best evidence.
